Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103 which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. § 103, the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 C.F.R. § 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of potential 35 U.S.C. § 102(f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. § 103.

Claims 1-2, 5-9 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over Jean or Morosas in view of Lee and Yeh.

The patent of Jean, in Figures 3-6, and the patent of Morosas, in Figures 1-5 disclose all the claimed features with the exception of the folded fin having semi-circular arches and a clip.

The patent of Lee discloses that it is known to have a folded fin having semi-circular arches for the purpose of reducing pressure losses within the fluid flowing over the arches. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Jean or Morosas semi-circular arches for the purpose of reducing pressure losses within the fluid flowing over the arches as disclosed in Lee. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the claimed materials, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

The patent of Yeh in Figure 2 discloses that it is known to have a clip which couples physically and thermally a heat sink/fins to a base for the purpose of providing a secure and elastic connection between the heat sink and the base. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Jean or Morosas a clip which couples physically and thermally the heat sink/fins to the base for the purpose of obtaining a secure and elastic connection between the heat sink and the base as disclosed in Yeh.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as being unpatentable over Jean or Morosas in view of Lee and Yeh as applied to claims 1-2 above, and further in view of Bishop et al. The device of Jean or Morosas fail to teach a second fan.

The patent of Bishop et al. in Figure 1 discloses that it is known to have both first and second fans for the purpose of enhancing the convective heat transfer of the heat sink. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to employ in Jean or Morosas a second fan for the purpose of enhancing the convective heat transfer of the heat sink as disclosed in Bishop et al.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's concerns directed toward Yeh are not found persuasive. Applicant is correct in stating Yeh teaches the fins (30) being glued or welded to the base (20). Additionally, Yeh, in figures 1-2 and in column 3, lines 17-30, teaches a fastening clip (40) coupling physically and thermally the corrugated/folded fins (30) to the base (20).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christopher Atkinson whose telephone number is (703) 308-2603.
